

A comic panel set in a bar. On the left, a woman with long blonde hair, wearing a black jacket over a blue shirt and red pants, sits on a stool. On the right, an older man with white hair and a beard, wearing blue overalls over a maroon shirt, sits on a stool. They are both smiling. The background features a wooden bar with bottles, a clock on the wall, and a menu board. A speech bubble from the man at the top right contains text about a dream job. A large yellow speech bubble from the woman in the center contains text about misinformation. A speech bubble from the man at the bottom right contains text about a dream job and a Sasquatch article.

I can't believe I just about didn't take my dream job because of a stupid and fake article.

So many people fall for these fake articles. It's great we got to talk about it. Misinformation happens often because people believe in silence.. There is still more to learn but you have a great foundation.

Thanks again. You really did save me from myself. Now I have my dream job! I saw an article that the Sasquatch was spotted. Can we do that one next?
