

I didn't even realize you were allowed to have blatantly false sites like that.

They are supposed to disclose that they are fake. But sometimes reputable websites have fake news on them too. So there are more ways you can verify.

It would be easy if these articles were flagged where you found it on Facebook. Also why would somebody even write an article that creates division like this anyways? There is definitely room for improvement.